

HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

DEFENDED BY CULBERSON

TEXAS SENATOR SAYS CHIEF EXECUTIVE DID NOT EXCEED HIS AUTHORITY.

Washington, Jan. 4.—After two weeks of vacation the senate sat for two and a half hours and then adjourned until Monday. The session was devoted entirely to the further discussion of President Roosevelt's order dismissing the negro troops of the Twenty-fifth infantry for "shooting up" Brownsville, Tex. Senator Culberson of that state defended the order, bringing to its support many points of legal construction and justifying the action by many quotations taken in connection with the affair. He closed with an impassioned statement of the position of the South on the negro question, which he declared to be the most vital and dangerous problem before the American people.

Senator Foraker replied briefly, expressing his intense interest in having speedy action on his resolution for an investigation. Senator Lodge proposed an amendment to this resolution, which has the effect of admitting the president's authority as commander-in-chief of the army to take the action he did and of restricting the investigation to the occurrence in Brownsville. On motion of Senator Hale the resolution was given the right of way Monday.

Created a Mild Sensation.

Senator Lodge created a mild sensation especially among his Republican associates, by proposing that the senate acquit President Roosevelt on the charge that he exceeded any of his constitutional or legal authority in dismissing negro soldiers from the Twenty-fifth infantry.

Mr. Lodge urged the adoption of his amendment, saying it would simplify the investigation which should be made, leaving only questions of fact to be determined by the military affairs committee and throwing aside constitutional and legal points.

Senator Foraker strenuously objected to the amendment, saying that such a vote should not be taken until after all possible facts had been collected.

It became evident after adjournment that strong feeling existed among senators in opposition to acquitting the president in advance of an investigation. So general was this expression of sentiment that it is almost self-evident that the Lodge amendment will be defeated.

BIG FURNITURE STORE BURNED.

Spectacular Fire at Harlem Does Immense Damage.

New York, Jan. 4.—Fire destroyed the big furniture store of Cowperthwaite & Sons at Third avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-first street at night, entailing a loss estimated at $500,000 and causing injury of four firemen, none seriously. The blaze was the most spectacular fire seen in Harlem in a long time.

Near the Cowperthwaite building is the Harlem police court and prison. The fifty-eight prisoners were taken from their cells and paraded in the court until all danger was past.

OPERATOR ON THE STAND.

Gives Important Testimony in Terra Cotta Wreck Inquiry.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The most important testimony in connection with the investigation by the coroner's jury to determine the cause and to place the responsibility for the disastrous wreck at Terra Cotta on the Baltimore and Ohio road last Sunday night was that given by W. H. DeTrow, who was the operator at Silver Springs. He said he was sure No. 66, the local express train that was smashed up, had cleared the block at Takoma Park before he displayed the white target for No. 2120, known as the "dead" train, which crashed into the local. It was brought out by the coroner that DeTrow was an extra operator and had not worked at Silver Springs regularly but was shifted from post to post, according to the needs of the service.

The witness said that because of the foggy weather last Sunday night he had taken unusual precautions to see that a red light was put up earlier than usual. He testified that the local was about thirteen minutes late when it passed him and that when No. 2120 came through it was running about thirty miles an hour. DeTrow will be called to the stand again.

The coroner charges several of these railroad witnesses with being evasive in their answers to his questions.

LICORICE PASTE TRUST CASE.

Will Go to the Jury on All Counts Specified in the Indictment.

New York, Jan. 4.—The prosecution in the case of the MacAndrews and Forbes company, the J. S. Young company and Karl Jungbluth and Howard E. Young, charged with violating the Sherman anti-trust law in an attempt to monopolize the sale of licorice paste in this country has concluded. Announcement that the prosecution was ready to rest was made by the government attorneys after Judge Hough had sustained the government's contention that the case should go to the jury on all three of the counts specified in the indictment. One of the counts charges the defendants with effecting a "combination," another that it "entered into a conspiracy," and the third that it "attempted to monopolize the paste industry."

James B. Duke, president of the American Tobacco company, testified for the defense. He insisted there had been no attempt to raise the price on licorice paste to any unreasonable figure.

Simultaneously with the filing of the articles of the new corporation were filed resolutions of dissolution by Kimberly & Clark company, of the Atlas Paper company of Appleton and Telulah Paper company of Appleton.

FRIGHTENS OFFICIALS

MURDER OF GENERAL VON DER LAUNITZ SCARES THOSE ON REBEL DEATH LIST.

DEED TOTALLY UNEXPECTED

ST. PETERSBURG CHIEF OF POLICE KILLED BY A TERRORIST IN A CHURCH.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—The police have not yet succeeded in identifying the terrorist who shot and killed Major General Von der Launitz, prefect of police of St. Petersburg, at the Institute of Experimental Medicine in the afternoon and who coolly turned his revolver against himself while he was falling under the sabers of the prefect's escort. The authorship of this crime, however, like the recent assassination of Count Ignatieff and the unsuccessful attempt to blow up Premier Stolypin with a bomb, has been traced to the fighting organization of the Social Revolutionists, who recently resolved to resume full terrorist activity.

The organization has issued the customary proclamation avowing and justifying the killing of General Von der Launitz, which was accomplished with an ease and simplicity that has struck terror into the hearts of all other officials on the revolutionary death list.

The man who committed the crime was about twenty-two years old and apparently belonged to the intelligent working class. The police affirm he was a Jew. He was provided with a card of admission to the dedication of the church but this card bore no name. The authorities have not been able to find out how he obtained this invitation to the ceremony, which was extremely select, only 150 invitations having been issued.

The fact that General Von der Launitz was to attend the consecration of the church of the institute was not generally known and the terrorists must have learned of this fact from sources within the police department. The prefect was accompanied to the church by his usual body guard of secret service men but not one of these had the slightest suspicion of the murderer, although his toll-stained hands were completely out of harmony with his faultless evening clothes, a garb which everybody attending official ceremonies in Russia must don.

Shot From Behind.

Von der Launitz, at the invitation of Prince Peter Alexandrovitch, brother-in-law of the emperor, was attending the consecration of the institute chapel. During the services and while mingling with several high officials the prefect of police was approached from behind by a young man, who drew a revolver and shot him in the base of the brain. Von der Launitz fell forward and died in two minutes.

The fall of General Von der Launitz was followed by a scene of indescribable hysteria and confusion. The Duke of Oldenburg, who was one of the few men who retained their composure, seized the assassin's hand after he had fired twice, and several succeeding shots were discharged into the ceiling. But before the duke could disarm him one of the officers who accompanied the prefect drew his saber and struck the assassin a powerful blow, which completely cut off a portion of his skull. As the man was falling he shot himself in the stomach with the last bullet in his revolver. His death was instantaneous but several officers continued to hack at his prostrate body until the Duke of Oldenburg forced them to desist.

In addition to two arrests made within the church, the doors of which were closed after the shooting, several other persons were taken into custody in a neighboring instrument factory, which is believed to have served as headquarters for the terrorists.

It was during the time that General Von der Launitz was governor of Tambov that there occurred the terrible repression of the agrarian disorders in Tambov province and it was in retribution for these repressions Maria Spiridonova, the Russian Joan of Arc, shot Chief of Police Luzhenofski, one of the subordinates of General Von der Launitz.

OBTAINS A CONTINUANCE.

Great Northern Delays Hearing in Stock Issue Case.

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—The Great Northern Railway company has begun to contest the right of the state of Minnesota to prevent it from making the issue of $60,000,000 of stock. In compliance with the action brought by Attorney General E. T. Young in the Ramsey county court, W. R. Begg, general counsel for the Great Northern, appeared before Judges Hallam and Orr in the district court and asked for a continuance of the matter until next Tuesday. The hearing was on an order to show cause why the company should not be restrained from issuing the stock. The district court judges, after hearing Attorney Begg, granted permission to lay the case over until next Tuesday.

Inasmuch as arrangements had been made by the Great Northern to prepare for the issuance of the stock on Jan. 4, the attorney general's department thought that the matter should be taken up immediately, but Attorney Begg explained that nothing would be done and the district court continued the matter until the day mentioned. In the meantime the Great Northern will prepare its case and Attorney Frank Kellogg and W. R. Begg will represent the railroad next Tuesday in a determined effort to break down the legal barrier which now prevents the issuance of the stocks.

Attorney General E. T. Young and Assistant Attorney General Royal A. Stone will appear for the state.

MRS. HEYL GETS A DIVORCE.

No Contest Over Case, Heyl Having Withdrawn His Answer.

Milwaukee, Jan. 4.—Judge Halsey in the circuit court granted a divorce to Mrs. Clara S. Heyl from Jacob Heyl. There was no contest, Mr. Heyl having withdrawn his answer to his wife's complaint. Heyl was not present in court but was represented by counsel.

In the division of property by agreement the sum of $325,000 of life insurance of the defendant is assigned to Mrs. Heyl as well as Heyl's half interest in the Schandeln-Heyl library. Mrs. Heyl relinquishes all claims against the Schandeln estate, amounting to about $460,000, and also his fees as executor, amounting to approximately $60,000. Mrs. Heyl pays over to the defendant sums aggregating $300,000, partly in real estate and partly in first mortgage bonds, and about $50,000 cash. Mrs. Heyl is awarded the custody of her two children, Reinhardt, aged fifteen, and Hellmuth, thirteen, years, but at the age of sixteen years the boys are to choose for themselves between the parents.

CASE WILL GO TO TRIAL.

Court Overrules Demurrers of Oil Trust to Pending Indictments.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Judge Landis, in the United States district court, has overruled the demurrer of the Standard Oil company to eight indictments pending against that corporation, but sustained the demurrer as to two other indictments because of technical defects.

"These prosecutions," said the court, "are for alleged violations of section 1 of the act approved Feb. 19, 1903, known as the Elkins law. The charge is that the defendant obtained the transportation of its property by various railway companies at rates less than those named in the carriers' published schedules. The offenses are alleged to have been committed prior to the enactment of the law approved June 29, 1906, known as the rate law. The indictments were returned Aug. 27, 1906."

GREAT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

Cause of Discussion in Event of Japan and United States Clashing.

London, Jan. 4.—The question of the attitude of Great Britain in the face of the possibility of a quarrel between the United States and Japan still simmers here. In an editorial the Standard points out that everything hinges upon whether the aggressor is provoked or not, that being the essence of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

For instance, should the United States invade Korea, Great Britain would be bound to assist Japan, but if Japan invaded the Philippines, that would be a private adventure in which Great Britain would not mix. By no stretch of the political imagination, says the Standard, could the exclusion of Japanese artisans and traders from the United States be represented as a breach of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER

KNEW WHERE IT WAS HIDDEN

St. Paul, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Wilhelmina Kundy, seventy-nine years old, 216 West Fairfield avenue, was murdered and robbed of $500. Her lifeless body, the skull crushed and showing numerous marks of violence, was found hanging head downward on the cellar steps shortly before 6 o'clock p. m. Her son Emil Kundy, thirty-five years old, a teamster, found the body and notified the neighbors.

Aside from its cold-blooded brutality the murder of the aged woman is mystifying. Two men are now under arrest and will be held until later developments. Apparently robbery was the motive for the murder, and yet the ordinary burglar never would have guessed the hiding place of the savings of years, amounting to something more than $500.

The fact that she was killed seems to mean but one thing. Her slayer was acquainted with her and knew that to silence her he must kill her. Another thing which points to the fact that the murderer was acquainted with the house is that not an article in the house, with the exception of the money, was touched. There was no ransacking of drawers, and it was evident that the house had not been rummaged in the least. Instead the murderer had gone straight to the spot where the money was concealed and after securing it had rearranged the furniture.

The money was kept in a pine box, which was hidden in a secret recess in a partition.

The woman evidently was killed in the kitchen and the body was thrown into the cellar.

Her skull is fractured and if she recovers she may be deaf. She was not robbed and the motive for the assault is not known. Her assailant escaped.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS
Do Not Endanger Life When a Brainerd Citizen Shows You a Cure.
Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?
Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.
If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Brainerd testimony.
Mrs. Peter Hedwell, formerly of 411 Second Ave., N. E., Brainerd, Minn., says: "The use of Doan's Kidney Pills by Mr. Hedwell proved them to be worthy of all confidence. I am not exaggerating in saying that it only required a few doses to remove a persistent pain in the small of the back over the kidneys, from which he had suffered considerably. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at H. P. Dunn & Co's drug store, on Front Street. Our experience with this remedy proved that anyone suffering from backache or kidney complaint in any of its various forms would do well to try Doan's Kidney Pills. We endorse them emphatically."

VAST LAKE FOR JERSEY
Cost of the Enterprise Estimated at $7,000,000.
ADVANTAGES CLAIMED FOR IT.
Projector of Scheme Argues That It Would Be a Paying Investment From Sale of Water—Preventer of Disastrous Floods—Would Cause Relocation of Parts of Three Railroads and of Many Wagon Roads.
C. C. Vermeule, a civil engineer connected with the office of the New Jersey state geologist at Trenton, whose plan for a lake on the site of the present lowland meadows of the upper Passaic from Little Falls to Chatham has attracted attention, proposes to dam the river at the former point with a mighty dam reaching from the highland at the base of Second mountain, on the Essex county side of the river, and stretching across into Passaic county, coming to a termination in the hills at the upper end of Totowa township, writes a Caldwell (N. J.) correspondent of the New York Sun.
Such a dam as he suggests building would not only flood the lowlands in Essex county that are under water during freshets now, but would cover to a depth of more than seven feet the greater part of the rich farms of Fair field and Clinton as well as much more of similar lands all the way up to Chatham.
The heaviest loss of property would occur in Passaic and Morris counties. In the former county the present villages of Singac and Wayne and a portion of Mountain View would be placed under from seven to seventeen feet of water. The powder works at Wayne, the large brickyards in that section and the rich farms that line the sides of Singac brook up through the Preakness valley would cease to exist. In Morris county the villages of Lincoln Park and Pine Brook would be the greatest sufferers, as the flood would cover them to the base of Hook mountain. The Rockaway valley would be flooded as far up as the old Zabriske mill at Lower Montville, the Pompton river would be held back to Riverdale, and another wing of the lake would cover the bottom lands of the Whippany from the village of that name to the Passaic.
Before the dam is completed and the mighty mass of waters impounded it will be necessary to relocate three railroads for several miles. These are the main line of the Lackawanna from Totowa to Towaco, a distance of six miles; the Greenwood Lake from Little Falls to Pequannock, nine miles, and the Morristown and Erie, the grade of which will have to be elevated for a considerable distance.
Many wagon roads will have to be abandoned and others relocated. One highway which will be left to cross the lake between Little Falls and Chatham is Bloomfield avenue, which will be carried across from the base of Franklin hill to the southern point of Hook mountain, three and a half miles, on a huge embankment and then by a new route on the westerly side of Hook mountain to Lower Montville. The roads crossing at Hanover and Columbia bridge are also provided for by raising the grade about twenty feet for a short distance. It is also proposed to run roads skirting the shores of the lake, where such highways do not already exist, and to cross different arms of the lake at several points with roads built on embankments. Mr. Vermeule says that in no case should a bridge be less than twelve feet from the water, so as to allow passage for steamboats. Mr. Vermeule has fixed the price of this vast enterprise at $7,000,000. He also says it would be a paying investment.
The waters impounded could be partly sold as a water supply to the many towns and cities in the lower Passaic valley and partly to maintain a uniform flow to supply motive power at Paterson and Passaic, as well as flushing out the sewage that is now turned into the river from these cities. But its greatest benefit would be the prevention of such disastrous floods as those which did such great damage to the above named cities on March 2, 1902, and October 10, 1903. These floods did damage almost equal to Mr. Vermeule's estimated cost of the proposed lake. After the floods of 1902 and 1903 Paterson and Passaic sent delegations to Trenton to urge on the legislature the advisability of the state taking steps to prevent such a recurrence. The agitation resulted in the appointment of a flood commission to consider the matter, and Mr. Vermeule's plan, it is said, is likely to be recommended by the commission, and the legislature may be asked at the next session to take steps toward its consummation.
Several plans for financing the scheme have been proposed. One is that the state do the work, assessing the cost on the cities and towns benefited. Another plan is for the state to construct the lake and reimburse itself by the sale of water and water power. It is also said that a number of Morristown and New York capitalists are ready to finance such a scheme at any time the state gives them permission.
Japanese in America.
We have had official assurances from the American side as to the real attitude of the republic and its people as a whole, and they are the most satisfactory, says the Japan Times of Tokyo. Really, however, they were not needed, because we have never yet had a moment's doubt of the sincerity of American friendship toward Japan and of the sense of American justice.

AMERICAN JUDGE IN CHINA.
L. E. Willey to Be First Head of Newly Created Consular Court.
Judge Lebbens E. Willey of St. Louis, who has been appointed by the president to be the first judge of the newly created consular court in China, is preparing to depart upon his mission, says the Boston Transcript.
"I look forward with interest to my work in China," he says. "The necessity for a court for the protection of Americans in China has long been apparent. This court will have jurisdiction over all commercial and civil proceedings and by virtue of a treaty between the United States and China the right to appeal to the higher courts of this country. The personnel of the court will be a judge appointed by the president for ten years, a district attorney, a clerk and a marshal. The court will have jurisdiction over all cases formerly tried by the consul general. The headquarters of the court will be in Shanghai, but sessions will be held in Canton, Hankow and Tientsin at stated periods and in such other treaty ports as the exigencies of the case render practicable.
"In all cases the judge will be the one to try the law and the facts. All trials will be public and will be held in the building of the American consul general. If an American should be found guilty of murder, the marshal has authority to erect a scaffold and hang the offender. Jails will be provided in Shanghai and all cities where the court has jurisdiction. An American need not obey warrant or summons that does not bear the signature of the American consul. There is an appeal from this court to the Ninth judicial district, of which California forms a part. This is a federal court and not under the jurisdiction of any state. One fact that is somewhat out of the ordinary is that the court, instead of being under the department of justice, is under the direct jurisdiction of the department of state."

CANNON IN HURRY FOR SOUP
Speaker Also Demanded Pie of the Capitol's Beefsteak John.
Speaker Cannon recently passed by the luxurious and betabled house restaurant for congressmen to the bare floored little alleyway, with little naked tables of the Beefsteak John sort, where the plebeian multitude are unceremoniously fed by hoarse and jostling waiters, says a Washington special dispatch to the New York Times. Every waiter in sight stood transfixed, and three dropped laden plates with sonorous crashes.
The proprietor reached Uncle Joe in three leaps and took him by the arm with intent to steer him into the holy of holies, where the linen napkins are.
"Don't," said Uncle Joe, resisting. "I came here on purpose. I am in a hurry, and I want to get something to eat. I can't get it there."
After vain expostulations the proprietor permitted the speaker to sit at a bare table opposite a fat grocer from Milwaukee. The consternation did not subside. Every waiter in the place dropped his customers and dashed forward to wait on Uncle Joe, who demanded bean soup and apple pie. Three waiters brought him the soup, two conveyed the pie, and the proprietor himself furnished a glass of water.
"No mystery about it," said Uncle Joe, wiping some pie crumbs from himself with a paper napkin. "I want what I want when I want it, that's all, and I wanted to get that soup before sunset."
SKIDDOO "23;" NOW IT'S "37"
Proved Beyond Doubt From Lemon Box at Chatham Four Corners.
NOW 37.
There is no doubt apparently that the honor of discovering the change in "23" to "37" belongs at Chatham Four Corners, N. Y., and nowhere else, says the New York World. It was demonstrated the other night beyond any question down at Page's grocery, and the credit must go to Bill Shaver, who has been around this neck o' woods longer than Lou Payn.
Bill keeps up with the times and knows that skiddoo means 23, but he has maintained that the change has taken place and that all the jokesmiths must recognize it. "Take my word," he said, getting up from a box of lemons on which he had been seated. "23 is no longer on deck. It is now 37. Take one and see." Bill wrote his declaration on a piece of cardboard and turned it upside down.
Newly Discovered Work of Menander
A highly interesting discovery is announced from Egypt, says the London Athenaeum. M. Lefebvre, one of the inspectors in the service of the Egyptian department of antiquities, has been fortunate enough to discover a large number of leaves of a papyrus codex of Menander, containing upward of 1,200 lines. The publication of this most welcome discovery should enable modern scholars for the first time to form an independent judgment on the style and genius of the famous comic dramatist.
The Automobile a Rest Cure.
It is a mystery to me that enterprising manufacturers of automobiles have so long failed to exploit the restorative qualities of their machines, says a writer in the Atlantic Monthly. But it will come before long, for in the minds of thinking men there begins to dawn a faint conception of the untold possibilities for good in this restless age of the automobile as a rest cure

A "Tip" from the Opera House.
A wise St. Paul Opera manager, in talking a few days ago about a show which had been a failure, quoted Tom Robinson, an English dramatist, to the effect that "A play is a good deal like a cigar; if it is bad, no amount of puffing will MAKE it draw, and if it is good, everybody wants a box."
The play's the thing that the people want after all, and this bit of philosophy is just as applicable to hosiery as it is to musical comedy or serious drama.
When you hear the American Girl or Boy stocking mentioned, isn't your first thought of how well they wear? This is true with 500 families to whom we have sold the American Girl or Boy Hose. We are not bragging, but when you want good hard wearing Stockings for the boys and girls just keep in mind that the American Girl and Boy fleeced lined stockings are the best.

The Evils of Constipation
are many; in fact almost every serious illness has its origin in constipation, and some medicines, instead of preventing constipation, add to it. This is true of most cathartics, which, when first used, have a beneficial effect, but the dose has to be continually increased, and before long the remedy ceases to have the slightest effect. There is no preparation, however, that can be relied upon to produce the same results with the same dose, even after fifty years' daily use, and this is Brandreth's Pills, which has a record of over 100 years as the standard remedy for constipation and all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood.
Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used and can be found in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

RIVERS RISING RAPIDLY.
Incessant Rainfall Causes Much Anxiety in Indiana.
Indianapolis, Jan. 4.—The incessant rainfall of the past forty-eight hours has caused much anxiety in the southern part of the state. Southern Indiana streams are rising and much damage is already reported. White and Wabash rivers threaten to overflow.
A report from Evansville says the Ohio river is rising rapidly and it is thought the danger line will soon be passed.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.
Elenora Duse, the actress, is ill of pneumonia at Genoa.
John McConnell, a prominent oil operator of Indian Territory, is dead.
The train service in Bulgaria is greatly disorganized owing to a strike of the employees of the railroads.
Governor Sheldon of Nebraska, in his inaugural address, urged that the lobby be banished from the statehouse and insisted that the legislature enact a law making it illegal to give or accept railway passes.
Gotch and Hackenschmidt May Meet.
Kansas City, Jan. 4.—W. D. Scoville, manager of the Missouri Athletic club of this city, announces that the club had offered a purse of $10,000 for a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match next April between George Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch for the championship of the world.
Costly Fire in a Mine.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE

Henry Towers Indicted on that Charge for the Shooting of Albert Hagadorn

HE WILL PLEAD TOMORROW
Albert Holmblad Also Indicted
—Charged with Assault in Second Degree

"Murder in the First Degree." This is the charge upon which Henry Towers was arraigned in district court this morning. He will be brought up to plead tomorrow morning and it is expected that his trial will come on early next week.

W. A. Fleming, of this city, will conduct the defense. With him will be associated Albert H. Hall, of Minneapolis. This combination will make a stubborn and able fight for their client.

Albert Holmblad was indicted also, the charge against him being assault in the second degree. He was also arraigned this morning and will be brought up to plead tomorrow morning. His trial, it is expected will follow that of Towers. M. E. Ryan is attorney for Mr. Holmblad and seems confident that his client will be acquitted upon trial.

The special grand jury completed its work Thursday afternoon and were discharged after having returned two indictments. Judge McClenahan, in discharging the grand jury took occasion to compliment them upon the dispatch with which they had conducted their work, they having been in session a little less than a day.

The case of Young vs. the Northern Pacific Railway company, involving the question of pay for a cow killed by a train was dismissed upon stipulation between the parties.

The jury in the case of Yde vs. Van Sickle returned a verdict of $3.50 in favor of Yde.

The case of Hallett vs. The Farmers Store company was put on trial Thursday afternoon and before a jury, J. H. Warner appearing for plaintiff and A. T. Larson for the defendant. Just before noon the case was dismissed by plaintiff at his own cost. The next case to be taken up was the case of the State of Minnesota vs. Charles H. Heath, charged with secreting stolen property. Heath is charged with having knowingly bought brass stolen from the Northern Pacific shops in the city it being alleged that he shipped it under an assumed name. The stuff was seized in transit by the railroad company and will be in evidence.

SOUTH OF COVE

Horace Mann States that Proposed Survey Passes a Mile and a Half South of that Place.

Horace F. Mann, of Midland, was in the city today and states that there is considerable stir around Mille Laes regarding the proposed Soo Line from Glenwood or Brooten to Duluth. He says the survey goes about a mile and a half south of Cove and touches the lake at Lawrence and Isles. He also confirms the reports that ties are being bought along the proposed line.

INCREASING IN INTEREST

Revival Meetings in Gardner Hall are Gaining in Attendance and Power
As They Go On

The evangelistic meetings witnessed a much increased attendance yesterday. In the afternoon about twice as many men and women gathered as were present the same hour on Wednesday. At night much the best audience yet, assembled at the hall. The two pianos were in place and were played by Miss Theresa Schulz and Miss Kathleen Rounds, and the unity of their work proved their accomplishments. The choir seats were all full and Prof. Martin was evidently well pleased with the praise service as was the audience also.

Dr. Riley spoke on "Secret Sins" choosing for his text Psa. 19:13, and as a corroboration text Psa. 90:8. He reminded his audience that he proposed a plain discussion of his subject. He mentioned as sins committed in secret, those which involve moral dishonesty. The liar strives to cover up his tracks. The defrauder uses night to fix up accounts. The gambler prefers a small room at the rear of the floor and bolts and bars against the public. The harlot curtains her windows, the thief chooses the shadows for his work, and the murderer the night for his deed. Secret! It is all in vain. "God seeth thee." "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper." The X ray can penetrate solid wood and illuminate feet of darkness. The eyes of God go deeper still. He will find you out. He discovered soul's deceptions. He unearthed David's lust. He can and will uncover still.

The speaker closed by pointing his auditors to Christ as the healer of moral leprosy, and in his appeal told how an old man lost on Mount Washington died within fifty feet of the mountain top house. To be near safety is not enough.

This afternoon a most unique meeting was held at which time Dr. Riley spoke to women only, on the theme "A Wife and Mother." Before the meetings close a somewhat similar meeting will be held and young women especially addressed.

Tonight at 7:45 his subject will be "Presumptuous Sins."

OFF THE TRACK ALL NIGHT

No. 61 Had Mishaps in the West
End of Brainerd Yards Thursday Night.

For the second time this week the Northern Pacific has had trouble in Brainerd because the light track equipment, which is not yet entirely replaced with heavier, will not carry the big rolling stock. Only Monday night the turntable at the round house went down under the weight of engine No. 2367 and Thursday evening about 10:30 the big No. 61 D. & I. R. engine went through a track in the west yards. The pony trucks jumped the track while passing a frog and when the drivers struck a piece of 56 pound rail, just beyond the switch, it snapped as if it had been a pipestem. As the track was on a curve the engine started across country but was stopped before serious damage was done. It was gotten back on the tracks about 10:30 o'clock this forenoon and was apparently not damaged. As the crew had been out 23 hours when the engine was again on the track they tied up here for rest.

From Eveleth Where He Had Been to Attend Brother's Wedding

Ed. Levant returned today from Eveleth, where he was best man at his brother's wedding. The Duluth News-Tribune has the following report of the wedding:

"The prettiest event of the year here in Jewish social circles occurred last night, when Miss Esther Nothanson, of Minneapolis, was united in marriage to Abraham Levant of this city. The ceremony was solemnized in Vail hall before a large company of guests. At 5:30 the bridal party came forth to the strains of the 'Lohengrin' wedding march by Wilson's orchestra. The bride was assisted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aron Nothanson, and Miss Stella Melavatz and Miss Pauline Robinson. Abraham Levant, of Eveleth, and Edward Levant, of Brainerd, were also attendants. The bridal party advanced to a canopy, where they met the groom, and Rabbi Weiner read the contract.

"The bride is a well known young lady of Minneapolis, where she has always made her home with her parents.

"The groom is a highly respected and successful clothing merchant of Eveleth. He is a member of the Eveleth fire department.

"After the ceremony the party retired with the guests to a bountiful wedding dinner at tables with covers for 100. After everyone had toasted the happy couple, everything was removed from the large hall and dancing was in order. The bride gave the first dance to Mayor Jessmore."

FOR VIOLATING INJUNCTION.

Members of a Milwaukee Labor Union Sent to Jail.

Milwaukee, Jan. 4.—Judge A. L. Sanborn of the United States district court has pronounced judgment in the cases growing out of the contempt proceedings which were brought, alleging violation of the injunction granted the Allis-Chalmers company against the molders' union and striking molders. No fines were imposed, but in each case where found guilty the judgment was for imprisonment in the county jail. Michael Katzbach, chairman of the strike committee of iron molders' union No. 125, and John Lutz, treasurer of the strike committee of the same union, were each found guilty of violation of the injunction and were sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days. Two other members of the committee were dismissed because of defect in the pleadings. William Henning, convicted of assault, was sentenced to forty days in jail. Two pickets were given thirty days each and two other strikers were given sentences of fifteen days.

Notices of appeal were given in several cases, but Henning and one other were surrendered to begin serving their sentences immediately.

The DISPATCH will be delivered at your door for 40 cents per month.

NIPPONESE NERVE.

Eight American Gunboats Versus
Two Japanese Boats.

At a noonday luncheon given a short time ago by one of the western railroad presidents his guests were discussing the row which the Japanese government is making over the exclusion of Japanese children from the San Francisco schools, says the Chicago Record-Herald.

"Do you think the Japs are looking for a fight?" asked one of the men.

"Not much," declared Benjamin Campbell, fourth vice president of the Great Northern railroad. "What the Japs want most of anything for the present is peace and lots of it. When they get ready to fight again, however, I don't think there will be any one who can whip them on their own ground."

"Funny people, the Japs," commented another. "Can't understand them at all."

"Nor can any one," declared Campbell. "The oriental mind is a thing that cannot be fathomed except by an oriental."

"Just a little concealed since their brush with the Russians, are they not?"

"It might be called conceit here, but if it is conceit in the oriental curriculum it amounts to a conviction that Japan is the greatest and best and the strongest nation the world has ever seen. I never saw anything like it. It sticks out everywhere."

"Think they can go some, don't they?"

"I should say so. When I was in Yokohama I stopped at one of the big hotels on the bund, or water front. While there I got acquainted with a merchant who owned more or less of the town, including a bank or two. We sat on the hotel veranda one evening after dinner listening to the worst orchestra I've ever heard. My Japanese acquaintance was watching the night signalling which was passing between several American gunboats of the Asiatic fleet which were at anchor in the harbor. A portion of the fleet was accompanying the late Admiral Train's body, which had been brought to Yokohama, and the ships presented a pretty sight.

"Honorable sir," began the Jap, 'those are American gunboats if I have the honor to not being mistaken.'

"You are quite right," I assured him. 'They belong to the stars and stripes.'

"They are fine boats, most esteemed sir," he mused.

"We think they are pretty good," I assented.

"How many did the right honorable sir say there are?" he asked.

"Oh, I don't know," I replied. 'A half dozen or so.'

"The Jap gazed for a few moments at the colored lights as they flashed their signals back and forth. Then he deliberately counted the ships aloud, like this, pointing his finger at each boat: 'O-n-e, t-w-o, t-h-r-e-e, f-o-u-r, f-i-v-e, s-i-x, s-e-v-e-n, e-i-g-h-t. Eight boats. Eight American gunboats, fine boats.'

"I made no reply, and pretty soon that Jap said in the most matter of fact, convincing tone: 'Eight American gunboats. All same two Japanese boats, honorable sir.'"

"What did the right honorable sir do?" asked a railroad president.

"They put you in jail for hitting a man in Japan," replied Mr. Campbell regretfully.

A SQUARE DEAL

Is assured you when you buy one of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formula are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native, medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. While potent to cure they are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine of proper strength. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable anti-septic and anti-ferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, "heartburn," foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures even in the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate hang-on, or chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

If the sweet taste of the "Discovery," caused by the glycerine, is disliked, a few drops of lemon juice, orange or lime juice, added to each dose will make it agreeable and pleasant and will not in the slightest interfere with its beneficial effects.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to endeavor to palm off upon you some nostrum of unknown composition in place of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines which are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Most dealers recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines because they know what they are made of and that the ingredients employed are among the most valuable that a medicine for like purposes can be made of. The same is true of leading physicians who do not hesitate to recommend them, since they know exactly what they contain and that their ingredients are the very best known to medical science for the cure of the several diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

With tricky dealers it is different.

Something else that pays them a little greater profit will be urged upon you as "just as good," or even better. You can hardly afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition and without any particular record of cures in place of Dr. Pierce's medicines which are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and have a record of forty years of cures behind them. You know what you want and it is the dealer's business to supply that want. Insist upon it.

AUTO BUZZ SAW PLOW

Colorado Man's Device to Make Arid Lands Fertile.

THE SOIL NOT TO BE PLOWED.

Instead Deep, Narrow Cuts Will Be Made, Which, the Inventor of the Machine Claims, Will Hold Moisture and Keep the Ground Soaked Like a Wet Sponge—Into These Seeds Are to Be Dropped.

But for the serious consideration being given his unique propositions by leading men of science and affairs one would be tempted to think that Colonel Albert Tullman Morgan of Denver, Colo., was a dreamer, a real Colonel Sellers.

His hobbies are to saw the soil of the west with buzz saws on wheels and thus make it laugh with a bountiful harvest, to fill the canyons and gulches of the continental divide with artificial glaciers and quench the thirst of the plains in summer time with ice water; to abolish the aridity of the west and the excessive humidity of the south—these are the large contracts he has cut out for performance by a queer looking machine that stands in the rear of a machine shop. The irreverent small boy has dubbed it the "Colorado Go-Devil," but he calls it the Morgan auto saw ditcher, says the Kansas City Star.

Here is the philosophy of this epochal invention: The auto saw ditcher, hitched to a steam traction engine, with gang saws placed a foot apart, will buzz saw the plains instead of plowing them. Millions of little trenches or grooves, or rills, or saw cuts, or whatever one chooses to call them, will be seen in the arid prairie a foot or more in depth and an inch or an inch and a half in width at right angles to the line of drainage. When a rain comes or when the snows melt, instead of running off the surface into the water courses to create disastrous floods a thousand miles or more away, the moisture will sink into these millions of saw cuts. Gradually it will percolate on down into the subsoil, soaking it as well as the partitions between the grooves and the sun baked prairie will be filled with water like a sponge. In these saw cuts the colonel will then plant the seed of whatever crops he wishes to harvest. By this method he declares he can grow sugar beets a foot long, doubling Colorado's annual production without the planting of an additional acre.

Next in the scheme is the reintroduction of the glacial age. At every little pool, lake and basin near the bleak mountain tops the colonel plans to place siphons. When ice forms in winter time over these pools, these siphons will be put to work, pouring water from the bottoms of the pools out over the surface of the ice on lower levels. Hundreds of miles of glaciers many feet in thickness might thus be formed every winter in the deep canyons and gulches of the continental divide. Instead of going off with a rush on the arrival of spring, as a greater portion of the snows and thin ice of the mountains now does, the glaciers will melt but slowly, distributing their moisture into the streams through the hot summer months. This moisture can then be used to supplement that stored in the saw cuts on the plains for irrigation wherever needed.

"The storing of moisture in the soil and in glacial formations in the mountains will inevitably reduce the drainage into the Mississippi so materially that the floods that threaten the levees and inundate the lowlands will never more be heard of," he declares.

Colonel Morgan has advocated these ideas in season and out of season for many years, but never got a hearing until this fall. He went so far as to have an experimental buzz saw on wheels constructed, just to convince people that his auto saw would saw. It did saw, and so many people saw it saw that doubt on that score is no longer possible. The way it made the saw dirt fly was a caution. It threatened to bury the horses which supplied the motive power. A shield was then placed in front of the saw to catch the dirt and place it at one side of the saw cut. When gang saws are used, the dirt will be placed between the channels. The buzz saws, it should be explained, revolve in a direction contrary to that of the wheels of the carriage. Instead of cutting down, they cut up, lifting the particles of soil and throwing them out of the way.

Mechanically, therefore, the buzz saw in the soil is a success. It does the work expected of it, requiring less power for its operation than a plow. An acre of ground or a thousand acres of ground can be gang sawed by this new implement of husbandry cheaper than it can be plowed. Colonel Morgan says that the buzz saw will crowd the plow out of business. This of course remains to be seen. The effects of the sawing of the soil for the conservation of moisture in the plains have not yet been demonstrated.

Many prominent people have endorsed Colonel Morgan's plan. The Denver chamber of commerce has endorsed the idea to the extent of joining in the effort to raise $10,000 with which to test its practicability and efficiency on a scale that will forever settle the question. The Hon. E. T. Wells, former justice of the Colorado supreme court, predicts that it will revolutionize agricultural conditions throughout the semiarid belt.

It seems as if the day of the buzz saw had at last arrived. It will at least be given an exhaustive test to decide whether the faith of the inventor of the auto saw is justified or vain. This is all Colonel Morgan asks.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE BELIEF.

Some Opinions on a Much Discussed Religious Body.

While not counted among the disciples of Christian Science, we would not be slow to recognize and admire the earnestness, devotion and Christian spirit of its people, says the Independent. Men may differ as to its underlying philosophy, but none can question the deep faith of its adherents in God, their true discipleship of Jesus Christ and the religious vitality of their church.

They are unflinching believers in the Christian religion. To their science they give the designation Christian because they are first Christians. Like all of us, they give their own interpretation to the Bible, more literal than we would allow, and they much value that interpretation and that system of philosophy taught them by Mrs. Eddy. Accordingly they have the same right as other Christians to unite in an organization and have their own ministers and churches.

It is to their credit that their faith shows itself in their works. We do not refer so much to the generosity of their gifts to build noble places of worship, although such a temple as that in Boston might well excite admiration. We have in mind rather that fervor of their faith which reaches the roots of life and death and makes them fully trust God and their doctrine of the nature of disease and health when they are sick. To those of other training their confidence has seemed fantastic and presumptuous, but in multitudes of cases it has seemed justified, so that the only recourse of their critics has been to refer such cures to the effects of imagination, for the cures cannot be denied.

Nor is their philosophy ignorant and thoughtless. It has appealed ever since philosophy has been studied to many wise men. It is the full development of a great school of philosophy which makes mind and thought the basis of fact rather than matter. It finds good and evil wholly in the mind and so addresses its efforts for physical health as well as for character to the mind.

Holding these views in philosophy and religion and representing unbiassed moral and Christian character, it is to their credit that during their lifetime they honor their teacher, Mrs. Eddy. Just as after their death other Christian bodies venerate Loyola and Luther, Calvin and Aquinas, St. Francis and John Wesley, so the person and writings of Mrs. Eddy are almost but not quite sacred in the eyes of her disciples. They honor her while she lives, and it pleases them that under the system she has taught her life is lengthened out to an extreme old age. Such respect for their great teacher is a beautiful impulse and deserves honor.

And the faith which they hold appeals to a good class in the community, to those who have a high moral character and are capable of high ideals and possess the potential of loyalty. They are of those who wish to look beneath the surface of things and who can rise above the low levels of coarse matter into the higher spaces of spirituality. There are among them many people of high general intelligence and wealth.

The Christian Scientists have been much spoken against because they prefer their own method of healing and because people sometimes die under their treatment. But the courts have acquitted them, and we do not see how when every other sort of healing is allowed as legal that which makes much of the influence of the mind may not be allowed its place for those who believe in it as well as systems that depend on water or electricity or massage or infinitesimals.

We are not here defending the philosophy or the system of Christian Science. We only defend its liberty of faith and recognize the multitude of its adherents, their moral earnestness, their spiritual fervor and the frequent success of their efforts through the mind to heal the ill of the body.

"AUTOMATIC REPORTER."

Easily Carried Graphophone That Talks Over the Telephone.

An "automatic reporter" is the latest invention for newspaper men, students and business men, says a Chicago dispatch. The new invention consists of a small graphophone, which can be easily carried. When the newspaper man wants a verbatim interview he springs his little graphophone on his victim and proceeds to ask his questions. At a distance of fifteen feet the machine will register all that is said. The record is next attached to a slow device, so that the whole can be easily transferred on a typewriter.

There is an adjustment to connect with a telephone on which the matter can be sent. The machine can be attached to the telephone receiver and a verbatim record of all conversations taken while the person to whom the conversation is addressed hears it from the receiver.

Monograms For Street Gloves.

With the good, wholesome winter a new fad has crept in with the girls who can be sensible—that is, to a certain degree, where fashions are concerned, says the New York Press. These young women, who don't believe that jeweled bracelets will keep their wearers warm or their hands a lovely ivory white, unreddened by the cold, have ceased to remain elbow sleeved girls any longer and are making up by wearing monograms on their heavy street gloves. The letters are of silver and, having a substantial little pin attached, can be transferred to different gloves.

Nervous Prostration.

The symptoms of nervous prostration well illustrate the fact that there is not a single organ in the human body but is entirely and absolutely dependent on the nervous system for the energy and power by which its functions are performed.

You feel tired, weak and worn out, lose interest in life, have no appetite and poor digestion, disorders of liver, kidneys and bowels, you cannot sleep, your head aches and you feel discouraged and despondent.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills cure nervous prostration and exhaustion in the only way it is possible to really cure them—by actually forming nerve force to revitalize the wasted nerve cells.

It may require a dozen or more boxes of this medicine to bring about a thorough restoration of your health, but you can be certain that each dose is, at least, doing you some good, and the cure is bound to be natural and thorough.
